About the Seminar

Intellectual property rights (IPRs) refer to the legal rights granted to individuals or entities for their creations or innovations. These rights enable inventors, creators, and innovators to protect and benefit from their work, thereby encouraging further innovation and creativity. IPRs provide a framework for safeguarding various forms of intellectual property, including trademarks, copyrights, patents, and trade secrets.

In India, the primary legislation governing intellectual property rights includes:

1. The Copyright Act, 1957: This Act safeguards original literary, dramatic, musical, and artistic creations, including books, songs, movies, paintings, etc.
2. The Patents Act, 1970: This Act grants exclusive rights to inventors for their inventions to prevent others from using, making, or selling the patented products or processes.

3. The Trademarks Act, 1999: This Act provides protection to distinct marks that distinguish goods or services of one enterprise from another.

4. The Designs Act, 2000: This Act empowers creators to protect the visual appearance of a product or its design features.

The need for intellectual property rights stems from several reasons:

1. Encouragement of Innovation and Creativity: IPRs motivate individuals and companies to invest time, effort, and resources in developing new ideas, inventions, and creative works, as they can reap the exclusive benefits and rewards associated with their creations.

2. Economic Growth and Competitiveness: IPRs promote economic growth by fostering entrepreneurship, attracting investments, and stimulating research and development activities. They encourage competition and positively impact industries such as pharmaceuticals, technology, music, and entertainment.

3. Protection of Inventors' and Creators' Rights: IPRs ensure that inventors, creators, and innovators have control over their works, inventions, or brands. They prevent unauthorized use, copying, or exploitation by others, protecting the interests and reputation of the creators.

4. Consumer Protection: IPRs facilitate consumers in identifying genuine, reliable products or services by associating them with specific trademarks, copyrights, or patents. This creates trust in the market and safeguards against imitation or counterfeit goods.

It is important to note that the jurisdiction of the court will vary depending on the specific Act and the nature of the dispute. For instance, copyright disputes are generally heard by the District Courts or the High Courts, while patent disputes are dealt with by the Intellectual Property Appellate Board (IPAB) and the High Court.

About the Seminar

We cannot allow the dead hand of the past to stifle the growth of living present. Law cannot stand still; it must change with the changing social concepts and values.

The above progressive observation of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India regarding the need for change in law with the replacement of colonial act, 1894 by new act of 2013 the law relating to land acquisition has also been changed with effect from 1st January 2014. So in tune with changed law we have to change our viewpoint and mind set regarding the entire process of land acquisition and rehabilitation.

All human beings indeed, desire only development but not disaster. Human history reveals that smooth development took place only when peace prevailed in the society. Development and disaster are just incompatible with each other and hence they cannot go together. The challenging task is; achieve progress without disaster. It is something like enjoying the best of both the worlds.

To bring compatibility between the two conflicting situations of development and disaster by reducing the gap.

'Rehabilitation' comes from the Latin prefix 're' meaning 'again' and 'habitat' meaning 'make fit'. So it is a process to make fit again. Medical dictionary defines 'rehabilitation' as a treatment designed to facilitate the process of recovery viewed in this sense, rehabilitation is a holistic and comprehensive approach to cure injury by restoring the things destroyed in the name of development to a good condition and thereby ensure the improvement in the living standard of life of displaced people.

According to environmentalists and social activists like smt. Medha Pathkar and Sri Baba Amte, any large scale displacement of people without their prior consent or consultation and without proper rehabilitation package prepared in a participatory manner is nothing but a disaster.

The root of the problem lies in the mode and the method of acquisition of private land for public purpose by the state.

Realizing the necessity of rehabilitation during nineteen eighties. The government of India also framed national Rehabilitation & Resettlement policy 2007.

Until recently, persons whose lands were acquired were called land losers and they were at the receiving end. The word 'land-loser' sounds like slavish and indicates helplessness. Now farmers have understood that without land no project can come up. Moreover, new act of 2013 provides for a mandatory consultation of the people through the Grama Sabha and consultation of the local bodies through public hearing. Hence in the strict sense of the term they are no longer land losers. On the contrary, they are being regarded as land providers.

The demand of land providers should not be unrealistic and irrational.

The advent of new land acquisition act 2013 has clearly marked the shift from a regulatory regime to a participatory regime in the matters related to land acquisition.

A PEEK INTO RAICHUR

Raichur (formerly Raichore^[1]) is a city and municipality in the district of Raichur in the Indian state of Karnataka. Raichur, located between Krishna and Tungabhadra rivers, is the headquarters of Raichur district.

The Raichur Thermal Power Station at Shaktinagar and Yaramaras Thermal Power Station at Yaramaras, generate electricity for Karnataka.

Raichur District is one of few places in India with gold resources. Hatti Gold Mines are situated in Raichur District, around 90 km away from Raichur city. All the five talukas mentioned above are well irrigated, with water from the Tungabhadra Dam on the Tungabhadra River, and the Narayanpura Dam on the Krishna River ^[8] Raichur is known for its paddy fields and its rice, which is exported to different countries ^[9] It also has a good trading market in cotton industry.

Raichur is one of the highest paddy growing districts in the State. It has also earned the tag of Rice Bowl of Karnataka Raichur, Karnataka, offers a range of educational institutions in the fields of law, medicine, engineering, and general colleges and schools.

GLIMPSE OF SCAB LAW COLLEGE

Seth Chunilal Amarchand Bohra Law College, Raichur:-

Taranath Shikshana Samsthe a pioneer educational institution of Raichur, started Seth Chunilal Amarchand Bohra Law college in the year 1974 with a view to the growing legal educational needs of the people of this backward area.

The law college has been playing a prominent role in producing competent young lawyers. While many of them joined the legal profession, quite few have been performing impressively well in the department of judiciary. It has been able to attract students from neighbouring States. Many students of the college brought credit to the college by bagging ranks.

The college has well experienced, qualified and dedicated staff with well equipped library. The college at present is affiliated to the Karnataka State Law University Hubli.

Vision

A Premier institution of excellence in imparting legal education by nurturing students to meet limitless opportunities in legal profession to empower every individual with knowledge and confidence in Hyderabad Karnataka region.

Mission

To achieve this vision, the college strives to impart comprehensive legal education and to achieve excellence in the legal field by creating an environment in which every student discovers and realizes his potential to the fullest extent so that intellectually capable Bar and Bench can emerge in the legal field that emphasizes legal literacy and critical thinking through humanistic approach.

ABOUT THE SEMINAR:

All human beings depend on the environment in which we live. A safe, clean, healthy and sustainable environment is integral to the full enjoyment of a wide range of human rights, including the rights to life, health, food, water and sanitation. Article 21 of the Constitution and it include the right to enjoyment of pollution free water and air for full enjoyment of life. If anything endangers or impairs that quality of life in derogation of laws a citizen has recourse to Art.

The relationship between the environment and human rights is significant. Environmental degradation can have a direct impact on people's fundamental rights, such as the right to life, health, and a clean environment. Many international agreements, like the Paris Agreement and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, acknowledge this connection. People in vulnerable communities often bear the brunt of environmental harm, leading to issues like displacement, food and water shortages, and more. Protecting the environment is, in many ways, about safeguarding human rights and ensuring a sustainable future for all.

REPORT

Next Prof. Bhat discussed the major issues faced by Raichur and North-Karnataka, such as cyber bullying, domestic violence and child marriages. Cyber bullying is becoming rampant on social media platforms there should be legal awareness especially among women regarding the use of social media, and sharing personal photograph in social media platforms. Domestic Violence is an important social and legal aspect between the age group of 25-45 years. The main sociological factors are fear of divorce, impact on child psychology and awareness on behavioural change. The Protection Officers play a crucial role bringing awareness to the sociological and the legal facet of domestic violence. Prof. Sairam Bhat insisted upon the efforts to revive Legal Aid clinics.

Mr. Vikas Gahlot discussed the Consumer Protection Act. He emphasised that it is a key legislation relating to day to day life of every common man and the growth of apps like Swiggy and Zomato and others. He highlighted that Consumer Awareness should be at the forefront in today's technological and legal advancement. Citing an example of online food portals, he asserted the necessity to bring in consumer awareness especially in young generation, who have access to smart phones, regarding food safety standards, kitchen safety standards, plastic packaging and food grade audits in cloud kitchens. There is a prominence of legal awareness in the field of consumer rights in housing sector.

Glimpses of the Workshop

SUMMARY OF THE PROCEEDINGS

The One-Day Workshop on Legal Literacy and Legal Awareness was organised under the aegis of the Department of Justice, Ministry of Law and Justice, Government of India in association with Seth Churnilal Amarchand Bohra Law College, Raichur and Centre for Environmental Law, Education, Research and Advocacy (CEERA), National Law School of India University (NLSIU), Bengaluru on 26th March 2022.

SESSION 1 – INAUGURATION

The Inaugural Speech was delivered by Prof. (Dr.) Sairam Bhat, Professor of Law & Coordinator, CEERA-NLSIU. In his Inaugural speech, Prof Bhat emphasised the need and importance of legal literacy and legal awareness campaigns in Raichur which is identified as one of the aspirational district in Karnataka for the Legal Literacy and legal Awareness Program (LLLAP). He highlighted the important social and legal issues such as child marriage, cyber bullying and women safety, social media responsibility in digital age. Prof. Bhat further underscored the importance of legal awareness and legal literacy dissemination in such districts to involve law students and lawyers in this campaign of nation building and inculcating social responsibility. He discussed the initiatives of CEERA under the Project and the launch of CEERA Pro Bono Assistance helpline number.

The Key note address was delivered by Sri Mahadevappa G.K., In-charge Principal District & Sessions Judge, Raichur. Reiterating importance of legal education, Sri Mahadevappa stated that it is necessary to train the young minds during the college days and to make best use of legal literacy program during the college days. He highlighted that it is very pertinent to train the students for social cause, practical importance and applied methods of legal principles, court practice and legal implementations.

In his speech, Sri Mahadevappa shared valuable insights on pending cases in courts and underscored the need for speedy disposal of cases. It is well known fact that the number of judges has to be proportional to the population. Hence, there is a pertinent need to increase the ratio of Judges in India. Citing the example of the Court in Raichur, He stated that the First Division Magistrate Court has around 5000 pending cases which includes cases under the POSCO Act, SC/ST atrocities cases, land acquisitions, Arbitration, Motor Vehicles along with civil criminal appeals and session trials. Even though the Special Courts are legally required to take cognizance of case within 30 days, take evidence on a day to day basis, and dispose of the case within a year, that is not the reality. He stated that the reasons for delay in court matters are many. One such being the supporting system from Police Department in evidences. With the online and virtual hearing of evidences gaining prominence the matters can be disposed in a speedy manner. He emphasised that in cases of POCSO and JJ Act, the virtual hearing and recording of evidence is a sensitive matter therefore In camera hearing shall be continued. Legal awareness should be disseminated regarding the misuse of online virtual hearing, recording through mobile phones which is punishable offence.

He also underscored the significance of NCC, NSS in legal literacy and it can be an important aspect in the student training program. The legal aid campaign needs to be strengthened in order to enable the speedy and efficient disposal of cases.

The next address was delivered by Chief Guest Shri Maski Nagaraj, General Secretary, Taranath Shikshana Samsthe, Raichur. He was assertive in his statement that legal literacy campaign should also include training on criminal investigations to present it in the court of law. As an example he said that in the matters of NDPS the investigation is so vital and crucial to the case in the courts and to prove the nexus between the offence and the accused. Legal awareness is very necessary to bring in practical knowledge and experiences. He also emphasized the social responsibility of lawyers and educating the common people about the practices of child marriage and the need for the compulsory education

SESSION 2 – Technical Session

The Technical Session was taken by Prof. (Dr.) Sairam Bhat, Professor of Law & Coordinator, CEERA-NLSIU & Mr. Vikas Gahlot, Teaching Associate, CEERA-NLSIU. Prof. Bhat addressed the importance of Raichur as an aspirational district. He also emphasised the need for mass grass root level out-reach through DOJ legal awareness program through the Class room and practical lawyering experimental Lab. He asserted the use of social identity of a lawyer for societal responsibility.
